ISDRS 2016 — Guides for Authors

The proceedings of the ISDRS 2016 conference, including abstracts and full papers, will be published in electronic form and with an ISBN. In this document you can find the instructions on how to write the full paper.

A “ISDRS 2016_Full paper template” accompanies this document. Please note that the template is formatted as an ISDRS Conference paper – all papers must fully comply with the formatting in the template.

All settings like paper size, margins, paragraphs and line spacing are embedded in the template file.

Full length papers: should be between 3500 and 8000 words long (including references)

Title

Concise and informative. Please avoid abbreviations and acronyms and do not use all capital letters in your title.

Author names and affiliations

Please indicate the given name(s) and family name(s) of each author. Author names should not include titles or academic degrees. Provide the authors' affiliation addresses below the names and full postal address of each affiliation, including the country, and the e-mail address of each author.

Abstract

Should be limited to 300 - 500 words and should be written in one single paragraph, covering the following aspects: background context; justification of the research/research argument; aim; methods/approach; findings/results; conclusions. Please avoid the use of acronyms and references.

Keywords

Maximum of five words

Sections

Divide your article numbered sections and subsections (1., 1.1, 1.1.1., 1.1.2., ..., 2., 2.1, 2.1.1...etc). The abstract, references and acknowledgments sections should not be included in section numbering.

1. Introduction

Provide an adequate international background, research argument and goal.

2. Methods

Provide detail to allow the work to be reproduced. This section should be also supported by references and the methodological limitations should be presented.

3. Results and Discussion

Should be clear and concise and explore the significance of the results with international literature.

4. Conclusions

Provide the main conclusions and implications of the study. Please avoid the use of references.

References

Please make sure that every reference cited in the text is also present in the reference list (and vice versa). All citations in the text should refer to:

1. Single author: the author's name (without initials, unless there is ambiguity) and the year of publication;
2. Two authors: both authors' names and the year of publication;
3. Three or more authors: first author's name followed by 'et al.' and the year of publication.

Citations may be made directly (or parenthetically). Groups of references should be listed first alphabetically, then chronologically.

Examples: 'as demonstrated (Allan, 2000a, 2000b, 1999; Allan and Jones, 1999). Kramer et al. (2010) have recently shown'

List: References should be arranged first alphabetically and then further sorted chronologically if necessary. More than one reference from the same author(s) in the same year must be identified by the letters 'a', 'b', 'c', etc., placed after the year of publication.

The template file accompanying this document includes examples for the most common types of references.

Appendices

If there is more than one appendix they should be identified as A, B, ...

English Language

Please write your text in good English (American or British usage is accepted, but not a mixture of these). If needed work with a Native English Science Editor to review your manuscript before submission.

Units of Measurement

The International System of Units (SI) should be used throughout the paper.

Pages

Please do not insert page numbers in your paper.
